The exports of cotton goods are picking up. The record for last February was nearly $12,000,000 worth of uncolored goods against about $4,000,000 worth for February of last year.

Outside of England there are few millionaires in Europe. Andrew Carnegie says he knows of none in Russia, but two in Germany and not a half-dozen in France. England has more of them than all the rest of Europe put together, and this country has more than all the rest of the world, but not one for every ten reputed to be millionaires.

Since the editorial headed "An Iridescent Dream," which appears on our second page to-day, was written rumors are coming in "thick and fast" that the Southern will soon control the Atlantic Coast Line. The STAR does not credit these rumors. What is known among railroad managers as a "community of interest" may possibly be established; but in no event do we believe the Atlantic Coast Line will lose its identity as a separate system. And we hazard the opinion that the steady advance in Coast Line securities sustains our contention.

Delightful Return Trip from Charleston on the U. S. S. Hornet—Praise for Capt. Tom Morse.

The United States auxiliary cruiser Hornet, with the North Carolina Naval Brigade aboard on its return from the Charleston Exposition, arrived Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, after a delightful trip. A few of the Reserves had arrived previously by rail, but a large majority of them remained by the ship and brought her around all right Sunday.

The trip was without incident and was made from bar to bar in 9½ hours. The Algonquin accompanied her and the trip around was something in the nature of a race in which the Hornet reaped its share of the honors.

The officers and men of the Brigade speak in highest terms of Captain T. M. Morse as a navigator and say that but for his guiding hand it might all have been "up" with the boys during the tough experience of Monday a week ago.

The Newbern, Kinston, Elizabeth City and Windsor Divisions remained in the city until yesterday morning and afternoon, leaving then on the several trains for their respective stations.

OUR NEW COMMITTEES

A TELEPHONE FRANCHISE.

Restoration of Streets by Sewerage Company Discussed, But Laid Over Until To-morrow Night—The Proceedings in Detail.

The resolution offered by Alderman Johnson at the regular monthly meeting of the City Council a week ago, taking the appointment of standing committees out of the hands of the Mayor and investing the Board of Aldermen with that authority, was adopted by a vote of 7 to 3, at the adjourned meeting of the Board last night.

Mayor Waddell was absent, having not yet returned from his Charleston trip. Mayor pro tem VonGlan presided, and all members of the Board were in attendance. The resolution adopted carries with it the appointment of the following committees for the ensuing fiscal year:

Finance — Bailey, Johnson, Skinner.
Fire—Harriss, VonGlahn, Sweeney.
Lights—Mann, Bailey, Harriss.
Markets — Maunder, Skinner, Parker.
Ordinances — Sweeney, Harriss, Mann.
Police—VonGlahn, Spencer, Mann.
Public Building—Skinner, Parker, Maunder.
Sanitary—Johnson, Sweeney, Spencer.
Water Works — Spencer, Parker, VonGlahn.
Streets and Wharves—Bailey, Johnson, Mann.

The meeting was called to order at 8:10 o'clock, those present having waited to see if Mayor Waddell would come. It was explained, however, that the Mayor had not returned to the city.

Upon assuming the chair Mayor pro tem VonGlahn asked the pleasure of the Board. A large crowd of interested spectators was present and the silence was intense as Mr. Johnson addressed the chair.

"At the last meeting," said Mr. Johnson, "I offered a motion that the following standing committees be appointed. The Mayor ruled me out of order; I then appealed to the Board and he refused to put the appeal.

"I regret very much that the Mayor is not here. I now renew my motion and ask that the following named members constitute the members of the Board of Aldermen."

When Mr. Johnson had completed reading the names as above, Mr. Harriss asked that the list be handed to the clerk for official record and Mr. Bailey seconded the motion as to the appointment of the committees.

Mr. Harriss asked members present to fully discuss the question before acting.

Mr. Johnson said they had a lawyer present with an opinion, and Mr. Iredell Meares came out of the treasurer's office and handed the clerk the following, which was read:

To Messrs E F. Johnson, E. P. Bailey and Others.

DEAR SIR: In reply to your inquiry asking for my legal opinion as to the right of the Board of Aldermen of this city to name what permanent committees it may appoint and by whom such committees may be appointed, whether by the Mayor or by the Board itself, I respectfully submit:

There is no provision in the charter of the city of Wilmington or the ordinances of your Board that provide for the appointment of standing committees.

The Aldermen constitute the legislative body of this city, and it is entirely within its general province to ordain that committees may either be appointed for standing or temporary purposes. It is a mere matter for them to determine in the exercise of their legislative powers, as to how and by whom committees may be appointed.

The charter of the city, Public Acts 1876-77, Chapter 192, Section 2, declares: "The corporate powers and authority granted to the city of Wilmington shall be exercised by, and vested in a Board of Aldermen, two of whom shall be elected by the voters of each of the following wards of said city."

The Private Acts of 1866, Chapter 3, Section 7, contains a provision as to the duties of the Mayor, which was not repealed by the Public Acts of 1876, and is therefore in force, as follows: "Section 7. Be it further enacted that the Mayor shall attend at his office at such hours as the Board of Aldermen shall designate; he shall keep the seal of the corporation; shall perform such duties as are incident or attached to his office by virtue of any law or ordinance of said city and such other duties as from time to time shall be prescribed by the Board of Aldermen. The Mayor, when present, shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Aldermen, and, when there is an equal division upon any question, or in the election of officers of the Board, he shall determine the matter by his vote; he shall vote in no other case, and if he shall be absent, the Board shall appoint one of their number pro tempore to exercise his duties at the Board. In case of the sickness of the Mayor, or his absence from the city, the Board of Aldermen shall appoint one of their number to act as Mayor during sickness or absence of the Mayor elect."

The charter of the city was amended February 20, 1891, by the enactment of chapter 429, Laws 1891, the first section of which reads as follows: "Section 1. That section two of chapter 192 of the acts of 1876-7 be amended by adding to the said section at the end thereof the following: That at the first meeting of each Board of Aldermen elected under the provisions of this act they shall proceed to elect a Mayor to perform the duties now prescribed by law for the Mayor of said city during the term of office of said Board; that the said Mayor shall be selected either from the members of said Board or from the electors of said city at large, and shall be a duly qualified voter of said city and have been entitled to vote at the election when said board was chosen; that should the said mayor be selected from the members of said board he shall forthwith resign his office as alderman, and the board shall immediately proceed to select a qualified voter of the ward from which said aldermen was chosen; that the said mayor shall preside at all meetings of the board of aldermen and shall not be entitled to vote except in the case of a tie. In the event of the inability, refusal or failure of the said board to elect a mayor at its first meeting, it shall be the duty of said board to select one of their number to act as such temporarily until a mayor shall be duly elected."

The second section of the act reads as follows: "That section 6 of the acts of 1874 and '5 be and the same is hereby repealed;" and this repealing clause repealed the provision of the act of 1874, which reads: "That at the first meeting of each and every Board of Aldermen elected under the provisions of this act, they shall proceed to elect one of their own number to discharge the duties now prescribed by law for the Mayor of said city during the term of office of said Board of Aldermen."

Again the charter was amended by chapter 213 laws 1899, section 3, which provides as follows: "No member of the Board of Aldermen shall be eligible to the office of Mayor or other city office or employment, until the expiration of the term for which such Alderman may have been elected or appointed."

It will be seen from the provisions of the several acts that previous to the passage of the Act of 1891 the Mayor elected by the Board remained a member of the Board, and previous to that time the custom seems to have been observed of his being appointed like other Aldermen upon committees in the discretion of the Board. The law of 1891 prohibited his remaining after his election, if at the time of his election an Alderman, in that position.

The conclusion is very clear to my mind under the acts constituting the charter of this city:

First. That the corporate powers of the city are vested in the Aldermen, not the Mayor.

Second. The duties or rights conferred upon the Mayor, which the Board of Aldermen may not take from him, are those that declare: "He shall keep the seal of the corporation," and "When present, shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Aldermen, and, when there is an equal division upon any question, or in the election of officers by the Board, he shall determine the matter by his vote." All other duties which he is required to perform are such as are incident or attached to his office by virtue of any law or ordinance of said city, and such other duties as, from time to time, shall be prescribed by the Board of Aldermen.

Third. As no law provides for his appointment of committees, he has no authority to appoint such committees, or to appoint himself a member thereof, except at the will of the Aldermen.

Even if the law did not vest this power in the aldermen as incident to their office as being the supreme governing power of the city, the general custom of legislative bodies would still leave it entirely in the province of the aldermen to determine whether the Board of Aldermen or the Mayor should appoint committees.

Mr. Cushing, in his work on the "Law and Practice of Legislative Assemblies," section 201, declares that "The duties of the presiding officer of a legislative assembly are manifold and various corresponding in some sort with the different functions in which the assembly may be engaged. In its ordinary capacity of a legislative body, his duties are * * * to name (when this is made by rule a part of his duty) who are to serve on committees. * * *"

The power of the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President of the Senate to appoint committees rest entirely upon the rules adopted either by Congress or the Senate for the government of the respective bodies.

Further answering your inquiry, I would state that the Mayor has the right to refuse to put a motion made by an alderman at a meeting of the board only when as a presiding officer he may rule that such motion is out of order. But an appeal from his opinion upon a ruling of this character, under the parliamentary practice, can be appealed from to the board, and if appealed, the Mayor has no right to refuse to submit the appeal.

As there is no law or ordinance prescribing the appointment of committees, the simplest way of carrying out the wish of the aldermen is to adopt an ordinance or rule prescribing the standing committees, the number of members of which each committee shall consist, and declaring as the Board may elect whether they shall be appointed by the board or Mayor.

Respectfully submitted,

IREDELL MEARES.

Subjoined to Mr. Meares' opinion is a written request for same, and also whether or not the Mayor has the right to refuse to put a motion made by an Alderman at a meeting of the Board, and the proper procedure to carry out the wish of the Aldermen in regard to the appointment of committees. The request is signed by Messrs. Bailey, Johnson, VonGlahn, Mann and Sweeney.

Mr. Harriss asked City Attorney Bellamy for his opinion on the question, and at the request of the Board, he addressed those present, saying he had given the matter some consideration on the morning before last Monday night's meeting, and had entered into an exhaustive study of the same since that time, laying aside all personal feelings in the matter and viewing it from a legal and parliamentary standpoint strictly. There was absolutely no doubt, in the absence of any rule, that the power was inherent with the Board of Aldermen to exercise it in a judicious and reasonable manner.

Detailing his reasons, Mr. Bellamy said: (1) "The Legislature has never prescribed the manner of appointment. (3) The power of appointment has never been delegated by the Board to the Mayor. It is true that in times past it may have been customary for the Mayor to appoint committees and in many instances the Mayor has appointed himself chairman of various committees. That, however, was because the Board of Aldermen saw fit to permit it and had no desire to interfere with the Mayor in the exercise of that privilege. In those days the Mayor was to some extent a part of the Board of Aldermen; in fact, he was elected from the Board, but under the existing circumstances the Mayor is in no wise an integral part of the Board of Aldermen, but is solely a presiding officer. There is express authority on the question of the Board appointing its own committees. The case of Dreyfus vs. Lonegran 73 Mo. App. 336 decided that 'a municipal counsel may make and abolish its committees by a majority vote.' So, in my opinion as City Attorney, the Board of Aldermen may on motion of any of its members and by a majority vote abolish all existing committees and either transact its business without committees if deemed judicious or appoint such new committees as may be deemed necessary."

In discussing the proposed action Mr. Harris said he hoped there would be no personal feeling or dissension. He believed every member was heartily tired of wrangling. ("That's a mistake; we are at it now," interjected Mr. Maunder.) Continuing Mr. Harriss said he believed the action should not be dominated by malice, prejudice, jealousy or personal feeling but for the public welfare. He had always maintained that the Mayor was not eligible as a committeeman.

Mr. Parker said he wanted to explain why he was going to vote "no." A year ago the same action was taken and the resolution was rescinded. He didn't want any more "acting and re-acting."

As the motion was about to be put Mr. Johnson asked to be allowed to explain why he introduced the resolution. He sharply criticised Mayor Waddell's course in regard to the restoration of streets after excavations had been made by the Sewerage Co., and was subjected to a rapid cross fire by Mr. Maunder until the latter was called to order by the chair.

Mr. Maunder, addressing the meeting, turned to Mr. Johnson and said: "I notice you put me on committees so that I can't do any more good. I guess you think my time is about up; that I have had enough already. I will say to you that I have. We've got a new bridge, a new fire alarm tower, about half of the policemen from my ward and I guess you think if I hold on a little longer, I will have it all."

Mr. Maunder's sarcastic remarks were replied to by Mr. Bailey and while the two engaged in a bit of repartee, Mr. Harriss called for the question and a vote on the resolution of Mr. Johnson's resulted as follows:

Aye—Spencer, VonGlahn, Sweeney, Harriss, Johnson, Bailey and Mann.
Nay—Parker, Skinner and Maunder.

Another Telephone Franchise.

An ordinance granting to the Telephone Company of America the right and privilege to conduct and maintain conduits for telephone lines and telephone systems, to erect and maintain telephone and telegraph terminal poles and to run, suspend, maintain and operate wires for a telephone and telegraph system over and upon the streets, alleys and public highways of the city, was offered by Mr. Iredell Meares, counsel for the company, who asked that the same be referred to a committee for consideration.

Upon motion of Mr. Mann, it went to a special committee, appointed by the Mayor and consisting of Messrs. Bailey, Skinner and Harriss.

The company asks for a franchise for twenty-five years and agrees to establish its telephone system in every house, office, shop, factory or other place of business and to render the service at a cost not to exceed two cents per call of five minutes duration or fraction thereof. The company furthermore agrees to begin work not less than six months after the granting of the franchise; to submit all its plans and specifications to the city and to indemnify the city against all losses, etc. The franchise is not transferable without consent of the Board of Aldermen and approval by the Mayor. The contract with the city will be accepted by the company within thirty days after it is filed.

Mr. Powell, a representative of the company, was present at the meeting last night. It is a competitor of the Bell Co., and the fight for a franchise between the two will be watched with interest in the future.

Restoration of the Streets.

The question of the restoration of the streets by the Sewerage Company was brought up by Alderman Johnson toward the close of the meeting and an expiration of the 60-day bond was suggested.

A motion by Mr. Harriss at length prevailed adjourning until to-morrow night and instructing the City Clerk and Treasurer to request Maj. E. W. VanC. Lucas, who has charge of the restoration, as referee, to make a report as to the progress of the work at that time.

COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION.

New School Building Wanted at Greenville—Improvements in the City.

The County Board of Education held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon, but the business transacted was principally routine. Col. W. A. Johnson and Mr. W. H. Sprunt were the only two members present, Capt. Donald MacRae having been out of the city.

Two of the district committeemen, of Greenville Sound public school, were present, and asked for the erection of a new building, but no definite action was taken. Superintendent Catlett, Chairman Johnson, Mr. Sprunt and Capt. MacRae will visit the present school building next Thursday to see what is best to do in the matter.

The two city public school committees were expected to have been present, and agreed upon a distribution of $4,500, laid aside by the Board for the erection of new buildings in the city, but they were detained, and a special meeting will be held later to consider the subject.

MASK SUIT FINISHED.

THE PROCEEDINGS YESTERDAY

Worth Against City of Wilmington Not Allowed to Go to Jury and Appeal Taken to the Supreme Court. Talesmen for To-day.

The jury in the $5,000 damage suit of Mask against the City of Wilmington, after a further consultation of two hours in the Superior Court yesterday morning, rendered a verdict at 11:45 A. M., answering all the issues in the affirmative and awarding the plaintiff $250 for the injuries sustained.

The verdict is considered as a victory for neither side, and either may take it to the Supreme Court. Messrs. Bellamy & Bellamy represented the plaintiff and Messrs. Meares & Ruark appeared for the defendant.

The jury which had the case in hearing is as follows: D. L. Gore, H. O. Craig, Geo. O. Gaylord, J. T. Canady, A. J. Howell, Bertram Queich, I. C. Loftin, C. H. Ward, Thos. Wortham, C. A. Bordeaux, W. A. Johnson and A. G. Hankins.

The only case on trial yesterday that attracted any attention was that of W. E. Worth against the City, in which the plaintiff sued for $5,000 alleged damages by reason of the overflow of his ice warehouse by water conducted down Third street.

The plaintiff was represented by ex-Judge E. K. Bryan, and a number of witnesses were introduced to prove the condition of the place. Upon the conclusion of plaintiff's testimony, Meares & Ruark, counsel for the city, made a motion to dismiss on the ground that the plaintiff had not made out its case, but Judge Timberlake said he would hear a few of defendant's witnesses before ruling on the motion. Ex-Mayor S. H. Fishblate, Alderman W. C. VonGlahn, City Engineer Jos. H. McRee and others were introduced for the city, and during the progress of their examination Judge Timberlake ruled that the plaintiff could not recover and the case was not allowed to go to the jury.

The plaintiff submitted to a nonsuit and appealed to the Supreme Court, notice of appeal having been waived and bond fixed at $50. Thirty days was allowed to file statement of case on appeal and 30 days to file counter statement.

In the case of Martindale vs Albro, decided previously at this term in favor of plaintiff, Messrs. Robert Ruark and E. S. Battle, counsel for defendant, made a motion to set the verdict aside and grant a new trial, which was allowed by the court, although the same was resisted by A. J. Marshall, Esq., of counsel for the plaintiff. The motion for a new trial was upon the ground that the verdict was contrary to the evidence and charge of the court and that while in consultation a member of the jury consulted a court officer as to which of the parties to the suit was plaintiff and which was defendant.

In the case of McNair & Pearsall against Wesley Thompson and wife and H. A. Townsend, the jury returned a verdict for amount asked of the defendants. Ex-Judge E. K. Bryan and John Gilchrist McCormick, Esq., appeared for the plaintiff while the defendants' counsel were not present.

In the matter of J. Allen Taylor against Mrs. A. C. McKinnon, et al., 30 days was allowed plaintiff to file amended complaint and 30 days to file amended answer.

Judgment for non suit was rendered in the case of Geo. R. Rhodes vs. Jno. G. Wagner and in the case of Jno. G. Wagner vs. Calvin Bell, judgment was for the plaintiff.

In addition to the above several divorces were granted.

The cases set for to-day are mainly without interest.

The following talesmen were ordered summoned for to-day: Willie Herring, F. Nash DeRosset, R. C. Banks, Melvin L. Godwin, G. D. Phares, S. S. Strickland, Jas. W. Collins, Richard S. Murray, J. T. King, A. S. Holden, Oscar Pearsall, E. L. Ennett.

Ladies Will Meet to Finally Arrange for Bazaar Next Thursday—What the Cranks Are Saying.

On account of the very inclement weather, there was not a large attendance of ladies at the Elks' Temple yesterday afternoon to arrange for the baseball bazaar in May and it was decided to defer the matter of final details until next Thursday afternoon, when it is expected there will be a larger attendance at the same time and place. Several donations of cakes and other nice things have been received and with the proper encouragement, the bazaar will be the great success it should be. The good ladies came to the aid and saved the team last year and is hoped they will come together and make "Wilmington" the pennant winner again this season.

The team will begin to arrive next week and a couple of practice games with amateurs have already been arranged.

Manager Bear yesterday signed to augment his pitching staff, Brandt, an old ex-National League twirler, who is said to be a power on the slab. He will be along with the rest of the team.

The Baltimore American of Sunday says the "Atlantics" of that city will sadly miss the services of their crack third-baseman whom Manager Bear has signed to play with Wilmington.

"Davy" Crocket" will captain the Newbern team. Bass and Gettig, of last year's Richmond team, are on his pitching staff, while Jack Frost will play second base.

PLEASING INCIDENT OF RETURN.

Officers Presented With Silver Service. Complimentary German.

A pleasing incident of the return of the U. S. S. Hornet from the Charleston trip with the Naval Brigade aboard occurred yesterday shortly after the noon hour when two handsome silver water services were presented on board the ship in the presence of a few friends to Capt. T. M. Morse, of Wilmington, navigator, and Engineer E. E. Williams, of Newbern. The services are very handsome and were presented in recognition of valiant service during the trip to Charleston.

The gifts were from the whole Brigade and the presentation was by Maj. T. J. Skinner, of Hertford, the chaplain of the Brigade. Both Capt. Morse and Engineer Williams responded in words of deepest appreciation. The pitchers of each service bear this inscription: "Presented by the N. C. Naval Brigade for Valiant Service on Board the U. S. S. Hornet en route from Wilmington to Charleston, April 7-8, 1902."

Among those present upon the occasion were the following young ladies of Wilmington, chaperoned by Mrs. Cuthbert Martin: Miss Cammie Lord, Miss Ida Brown, Miss Anita DeRosset, Miss Annabelle Jenkins, Miss Bessie Gore, Miss Nora Angel, Miss Annie Gause, Miss Marie Baldwin and Miss Nellie McMillan.

A morning german from 10 to 12 o'clock had previously been given in Germania Hall by the young ladies mentioned to the following officers: Capt. W. T. Old, Capt. Thos. C. Daniel, Lieuts. W. D. LaRoque, Brad Sanders, C. W. Melick, C. W. Hollowell, E. Ellis Williams and Maj. T. G. Skinner.

That Fence Story Again.

The imbroglio over the construction of a fence on the sidewalk at Mr. Garrell's residence, southwest corner of Third and Walnut streets, was not straightened out in Justice McGowan's court yesterday as appointed, but was continued on motion of Marsden Bellamy, Esq., counsel for defendants, until Thursday, it being understood that no further work is to be done until the hearing. During yesterday, prior to the postponed hearing, work was again commenced on the fence, and Messrs. J. F. Garrell, Jr., J. F. Garrell, Sr., Contractor C. D. Morrill and Carpenters Wm. Beattie and S. O. Frink were arrested, charged with committing a nuisance in placing the fence on the sidewalk.

— Mr. James H. Cowan's host of friends in Wilmington will be glad to know that he is expected home from Atlanta for the Summer on to-night's Southern train.

HANGED AT LUMBERTON.

[Special Star Telegram.]

LUMBERTON, N. C., April 14.—Frank Shaw, colored, tried and convicted at the February term of court here for the murder of his sweetheart, Mary Ferguson, during November, was hanged to-day in the presence of about 400 spectators. There was no disorder. Shaw had slept well, eaten heartily and was calm and collected when he ascended the scaffold with a steady step at 12:30 P. M. He realized the situation in three minutes, talked freely, expressed readiness to die and asked prayer, which was offered. Two hymns were sung, and at 1 o'clock sharp the trap was sprung and the body shot through the air without writhing or convulsions. Life was extinct in 12½ minutes. The body was cut down 10 minutes later, and as no relatives were present the body was buried by the county.

Shaw was convicted without introducing any testimony in his defence although witnesses had been subpoenaed. He was originally sentenced by Judge Robinson to hang on March 4th, but on account of his having been given only 20 days to prepare for his fate, he was respited until April 3rd, when he was granted a third respite until to-day.

The murder was committed on the plantation of Mr. W. G. MacLean near Floral College, where his sweetheart was employed as a cook. They were step-brother and sister and had been sweethearts for some time. Jealousy was the cause of the killing.

A Brave Fireman.

Fireman Bruce Lee, who is stationed at Chemical Engine station No. 1, on Fourth street, displayed bravery Sunday afternoon which is worthy of the warmest praise. A horse attached to a buggy, in which two ladies were driving, started to run at Fourth and Dock streets, and had gained considerable headway down the incline, when the Chemical Engine station was about to be passed. Fireman Lee dashed in front of the frightened animal, caught the bit and swung to him manfully until he was stopped. The ladies, although panic stricken, remained in the buggy and were unhurt.

Improvements at St. James'.

Extensive improvements at St. James' church, parish house and grounds are now well under way. A handsome brick fence, with brown stone coping, is enclosing the grounds and the contract was let yesterday to Mr. C. C. Parker for the painting of all the buildings of the parish. There will also be some repair work done and in all several thousand dollars will be expended.

Prof. Claxton Here.

Prof. P. P. Claxton, of Nashville, Tenn., spent yesterday in the city, and during the day visited the various schools in the city graded system. He came to Wilmington primarily to interest the teachers in the Summer school at the University.

The Morning Star.

BY WILLIAM H. BERNARD

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 15.

"AN IRIDESCENT DREAM."

The STAR attaches no importance to the prognostications of the Sir Oracles who are predicting that the Greater Atlantic Coast Line will fall a victim to the ambitions of the Pennsylvania railway system; for we can see no substantial basis for the reports, which are either mere guess-work or are circulated for some hidden purpose.

Those who know Henry Walters, the leading spirit in all the triumphs of the Atlantic Coast Line, do not believe he has yet reached the zenith of his career in his chosen field. He is in the prime of his mental and physical manhood, and he loves the work in which he is engaged. It is an open secret that, through wonderful sagacity, leading to judicious investments, he has amassed a fortune; and it is not characteristic of the man to desire the further accumulation of wealth except in so far as it may aid him in his ambition to stand primus inter pares in the struggle for supremacy now going on in the railroad world, and which may also aid him in carrying to a successful culmination various charitable enterprises in which he is interested.

The friends of the Atlantic Coast Line, and of Mr. Walters, may well believe that he is not yet ready to retire from the strenuous activities of a busy life. His reputation has all been made while piloting the great railroad system of which his is conceded to be the master hand; and the end is not yet.

Beginning with the old Wilmington and Weldon, the parent road, the Walters name has been closely identified with the railroad interests which have grown step by step to the proportions of a giant system. The late W. T. Walters, known and loved of all men who came within the charmed circle of his acquaintance, was for nearly thirty years the controlling factor of the Wilmington and Weldon railroad. When his useful and eventful life was ended his mantle fell on worthy shoulders in the person of his distinguished son; and to separate the name of Walters from the Atlantic Coast Line now would be like a rendition of "Hamlet" with the role of Hamlet omitted.

The existing relations between the Atlantic Coast Line and the Pennsylvania systems are of the most friendly character; and they are likely to remain so. But those who are seriously forecasting the sale of the Coast Line to the Pennsylvania are under the hypnotic spell of what the late brilliant Senator Ingalls termed "an iridescent dream."

THE SUBSIDY FRAUD.

Some of the strongest opponents of the ship subsidy fraud are found in the press of the greatest shipping ports of the country, notably of New York, the greatest shipping port. With few, if any exceptions, the non-partisan papers, the papers independent enough to do their own thinking and talking, are not only not in favor of it, but unsparingly denounce it is a fraud. In a recent editorial the New York Herald thus vigorously assailed it:

"'An act to promote the creation of a Shipping Trust by the Standard Oil and Pennsylvania Railroad capitalists who control the American line.'

"That would be a fairly descriptive title for the subsidy bill that has passed the Senate and is now pending in committee in the House.

"The plea that it is intended to promote commerce looks silly when placed beside the official figures showing the amazing increase in our export trade. For instance:—

Domestic exports, 1886....	$665,964,259
Domestic exports, 1901....1,460,462,806
Increase.....	$794,498,277

"In other words our exports have more than doubled in the last fifteen years—during most of which period the subsidy beggars have been hard at work in Washington pleading 'for the old Flag and an appropriation' to encourage commerce.

"But, it is argued, what these gentlemen wish with the unlimited millions of public money is not so much to promote commerce as to supply ships to carry it. On this subject, also, the statistics throw a suggestive light. Take the figures of the same period for comparison of the registered steam tonnage of the United States as furnished in the Treasury's yearly publications:

	Tons.
Steam vessels 1886 in foreign trade.....	175,843
Steam vessels 1886 in coast trade.....	1,346,331
Total steam vessels 1886..	1,522,174
Steam vessels 1901 in foreign trade.....	426,259
Steam vessels 1901 in coast trade.....	2,491,231
Total steam vessels 1901..	2,917,490

"That is to say, steam tonnage engaged in the foreign trade has more than doubled and is now the greatest in the history of the United States, and the shipping industry is enjoying unprecedented activity without the aid of any subsidy. Thirty years ago Mr. John Roach told a Congressional committee that a high tariff on iron was the thing that handicapped the American shipbuilder in competition with the foreigners, who got that material cheap. Mr. Charles H. Cramp at the same time testified that the average rate of duty on materials for the construction of ships was forty per cent., and added: 'If our shipbuilders could be relieved from that they could compete successfully with foreign builders. The difference in the cost of labor would be overcome by the superiority of American mechanics.'

"With the development of the greatest iron and steel and coal resources possessed by any country on earth there has been a cheapening of the materials and a revolution of the industry. We have become exporters instead of importers of iron and steel, and the correctness of the prognosis made by the two distinguished shipbuilders is verified in an extension of the industry which indicates that before many years the United States will build the ships of the world. And yet the subsidy beggars are as keen on the scent to-day as they were at that time, when we were dependent on Europe for supplies, handicapped with a tariff that made millionaires of the Pennsylvania smelters.

The plea that the bill provides for national defence because the government would have the right to take the subsidized ships on paying full value for them is absurd. Better spend the millions involved in building war ships. "To encourage deep sea fisheries" is the final alleged purpose of the bill. This is to be done by providing that where a third of a crew are Americans the government shall pay each of these one dollar a month—which obviously would result in his employer paying him a dollar less.

As a matter of fact the growth of our export trade has been stimulated by the cheap ocean carriage provided by the competition of the whole world's tonnage. The passage of the Subsidy bill would put into the hand of a few men the money of the people and the backing of the government to enable them to kill off competition and establish in ocean transportation a similar quasi monopoly to that which has been created among the railways. It is an evil bill in every point of view, and the people know it. To pass it, or even to report it favorably from committee, would bring upon the Republican party a disastrous rebuke in the approaching Congressional elections.

We could name a dozen papers in the North Atlantic cities (making no note of Southern papers, which are solid against it), which are uncompromisingly opposed to this scheme, which they characterize as fraudulent, and a scheme to levy tribute upon the country for the benefit of a few favorites without any reciprocal benefit to the people at large or to any section of the country. The Herald bases its arraignment of this bill on figures and facts that speak for themselves and furnish an unanswerable argument against taxing the people for something the country does not need, which will not help them and will benefit only the wealthy owners of the big steam vessels, which would receive most of the subsidies.

It is also an application, in point, of Senator Hanna's "let well enough alone," which he used frequently, and perhaps with some effect, in his speeches in the campaign of 1900. That was his answer to the demand for a reduction of tariff taxation. That is the way he answered it when speaking to the working men and the employes of the protected industries. Our industries are prospering, he said, you have steady employment at good wages. Why, then, should you want a change and run the risk of making your condition worse instead of better? You should, like prudent, sensible men, let well enough alone. This line of argument doubtless had its effect on the people to whom it was addressed, for they went right on and voted for the Republican ticket and for the Dingley tariff.

Mark Hanna is one of the most active and persistent promoters of the ship subsidy scheme, and one of the principal arguments he and others use in support of it is that it is necessary for the expansion of our commerce. That is a fraudulent pretence because our foreign exports have more than doubled in the past decade and without any American subsidized merchant marine. Is there any reason to believe that it would have expanded more or more rapidly if we had a subsidized marine as is advocated by Frye, Hanna, & Co? We need not look for consistency in Mark Hanna nor in any other Republican when a pet measure is under consideration, for they forget all about consistency then, and go for what they want. But if consistency had any weight Mark Hanna would find himself confronted by his warning to "let well enough alone" and abandon his subsidy grab.

The inference from their contention is that ocean service would be cheaper, and that would result in an increase of exports. But there is no assurance of that; on the contrary there is every reason to believe that if these subsidized ships become numerous enough to take the carrying trade away from foreign competitors they would, when their competitors were driven out, form combinations—a big shipping trust, and having no competition would make their own charges and have the American exporters in their power. And that is what the subsidy scheme would result in—a shipping monopoly which would control not only our ships, but our commerce.

"Col." John McKee, of Philadelphia, who died a few days ago, left a fortune of $2,000,000, and was supposed to be the wealthiest negro in the United States. He left his fortune to Archbishop Ryan, to establish a college for white and colored boys. As McKee was a Presbyterian his friends are surprised at his choosing as his trustee for the purpose named a Catholic Archbishop.

THE DINGLEY TARIFF NOT "SACRED."

Bepresentative Grosvenor, of Ohio, is one of the Republicans who believes in reciprocity, that is such a reciprocity as would not injure any American industry. He is an othodox protectionist, and declares that as a protectionist he favors reciprocity of the mild type favored by the late President McKinley, as a means of preserving the protective system, which he believes will be destroyed if the protected interests obstinately oppose reciprocity and a reasonable modification of the tariff.

He does not propose to go far in the start, but to make the first experiment with Cuba, with which, by ferce of events, we have become peculiarly related, between which and this country there are mutual obligations growing out of those relations, and in at least partial discharge of those obligations ou our part, he contends that it is our duty to make tariff concessions to Cuba that will enable Cuba and her principal industries to live, especially when by so doing no industry of this country will be jeoardized.

The only serious opposition to the proposed scheme of reciprocity with Cuba comes from the beet sugar manufacturers, and some of cane sugar manufacturers, who assert that the small concession proposed to be made to Cuban sugar will destroy their industry. Mr. Grosvenor denies this, but declares if the beet sugar industry cannot get along on 140 per cent. protection it should throw up the sponge and retire.

In the course of his speech Mr. Grosvenor, speaking as a protectionist, warned these and other kickers against tariff reduction, that the Dingley schedules were not "sacred" and were not made to endure forever, for the time will come when tariff duties must be reduced, and they were simply forcing the demand for it and arousing the resentment of the people by stubbornly opposing the movement in that direction now, a movement which for the present includes only Cuba.

In this case "discretion will be the better part of valor," and they will show lead-mule sense by accepting the inevitable with resignation if not with alarcity, and come down before they and their pampering system are pulled down together.

The editors of two Manila newspapers, both Americans, are under arrest charged with sedition. They exercised a little too much American freedom of speech in criticising the management of affairs over there.

While a blacksmith Mr. Cranford devised the tire setter and sent his invention to Washington to await developments. The Loray's samples sent to China are still getting in their work. Mr. John F. The larger order received about a week ago was for April, May and June delivery —— Mr. E. W. Carson, who doesn't set himself up to be any extra good farmer, but is one just the same, had a crop of cotton that greatly interested his neighbors. On one patch measuring 107 yards long by 71 yards wide clear of ditches, he kept a record and the result shows that for last year the yield was nothing to complain of. The cotton from this patch was brought to the Gastonia oil mill a week or two ago and when the ginning was over, 1,089 pounds of clear lint cotton was shown to be the yield from this patch of a little over 1¼ acres. This is a record of 692 pounds of lint to the acre —very good indeed.

THE SQUAB BUSINESS.

How to Make the Raising of These Birds Profitable.

The business of squab raising is not extensively carried on, yet there are people who devote their time to this occupation and derive from it satisfactory returns. It brings greater proportionate gains than poultry keeping. The pigeon house should be kept as warm in winter and as cool in summer as possible. When squabs are raised during the winter, the temperature must be kept above the freezing point. It is advisable to separate the sexes for two months during the year. This can be done either in very cold weather or at molting time, which comes in September and October.

A little hemp seed during the molting season aids greatly in putting on new feathers. It should always be kept on hand and fed at intervals during the year. It is a good tonic for the sick ones. Cracked corn is the best diet for breeders, as it is fat producing and promotes the rapid growth of the squab. Whole corn should not be given to those with young, as the squabs cannot easily digest it, and it often lodges in their necks. Neither should rye be fed to old or young ones, as it acts as an emetic. Doves are very fond of salt, but if given too much at one time without first becoming accustomed to it they will drink a good supply of water and then die.

The female skips a day in laying her eggs. Therefore a close watch should be kept of all nests and the first egg removed and replaced by a dummy or nest egg. As soon as the second one is laid replace the first. This insures hatching both at the same time and giving each an equal chance for life, whereas if one hatches a day or two before the other it gets the start and, being stronger, secures more than its share of food.

Squabs reach the best eating period in from four to five weeks. At this age the quills are soft, and they dress much easier and are not so apt to tear. The average weight of marketable squabs dressed is ten ounces. The price varies from 40 to 60 cents per pair. During the summer a ready sale can be found among city people at their summer cottages. In the winter they may be sent to the same customers at their city homes or disposed of in market. People who demand such a delicacy as squabs are willing to pay for them, and the market is not overcrowded.—John W. Vail in New England Homestead.

To Get Early Chickens.

The greater the improvement in the breeds of hens, the higher the price of eggs. Let the improvement go on, but increase the stock and the care.

Early eggs, owing to a variety of circumstances, are apt to be not very fertile. If one will feed a small flock of fowls, kept where they can have abundant exercise, liberally upon meat and grain, with the addition of green stuff, the fertility of the early eggs will be increased and the number of chickens hatched will be larger.

If possible, set two or more hens at the same time, so that when the unfertile eggs are removed the fertile eggs may be placed under one or more of the sitters and the remaining hens be provided with a fresh lot of eggs. Don't put too many eggs under a hen early in the season. From ten eggs more chickens will be hatched, as a rule, than from twelve or fifteen. As the weather becomes warmer the number of eggs for each hen can be increased. A small number reduces the chances of becoming chilled in the nest.

Early chickens should be kept, with the hen, indoors until the weather becomes suitable for them to be put outdoors. They will do much better if so kept than if turned out at once. Chickens hatched in March can be kept until April 15 or May 1 indoors to advantage, after which time they will do well outside. Unless one has a good place for them he ought not to attempt to rear very early chickens. But with proper surroundings and good care they will do well.—H. Babcock, Providence County, R. I.

the brooder, an opening being cut in the side where the door of the brooder comes. The top of the attachment is covered with coarse cotton cloth, or a sash may be used. The cloth lets in fresh air and the sun's rays, but protects the chicks from the cold winds.

Golden Penciled Wyandottes.

The Golden Laced Wyandotte, or, as it is called by some, the Partridge Wyandotte, it being as difficult for them to separate a penciled feather of this particular pattern and color from the word "Partridge" as it was in the early days for our predecessors to separate the word "Sebright" from the silver laced feather, is already well known at home and abroad. Fowls of this variety have not only been exported to many foreign countries, but some of the best English specimens have already found their way back to America, where great popularity seems to be assured them. They are of the same type and size as other Wyandottes, are easily bred true to feather and are far more beautiful than the Golden Laced, the variety which has been written of as "the beauty breed."

Be Sure You're Right.

While it is true that there comes a tide in the affairs of men which, etc., there are so many people every year left stranded high and dry that some caution would seem to be needed about picking out your particular tide.—Syracuse Herald.

Paine's Celery Compound

THE GREAT SPRING MEDICINE.

A Truly Wonderful Restoration After Failures With Other Remedies.

MR. R. J. PATTERSON, says:—

"I Owe My Life to the Wonderful and Speedy Curative Powers of Paine's Celery Compound."

Thousands of families today mourn the loss of near and dear ones who, when sickness first came upon them, were forced to use other medicines instead of the great disease banisher, Paine's Celery Compound.

We earnestly appeal to the relatives and friends of the suffering, to break away from the bondage of medical etiquette and dictation, in order that the suffering ones may have a surer and happier hope of a new life.

The one remedy known to medicine that can bring vigor, strength, and permanent health to the weak, run down, rheumatic, neuralgic, dyspeptic, and those burdened with kidney and liver troubles, blood diseases, and derangements of the digestive organism, is Dr. Phelps' great medical prescription, Paine's Celery Compound.

Weak, run down, sleepless, and despondent men and women will find inspiration and comfort in the following letter written by Mr. R. J. Patterson, of Sheridanville, Pa., who was fully restored to the blessings of life after use of the great medicine that truly "makes sick people well." Mr. Patterson says:—

"I was greatly troubled with insomnia and felt as tired in the morning as when I went to bed. I finally lost my appetite, and could not bear to even look at food. I was so weak that I almost despaired of getting well again. Before I had used one bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, I felt like a new man. My brain has become clear, my sleep refreshing, and my appetite excellent. I now find work a pleasure instead of a burden. I owe my life to the wonderful and speedy curative powers of Paine's Celery Compound."

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The cotton market opened steady with prices two to nine points higher, the near months leading the rise. This improvement was due largely to a fright of ring shorts who had on Saturday anticipated weak Liverpool cables. Contrary to expectations the English market started out quite steady in tone with prices about one point better than anticipated. Again, further talk of peace in South Africa helped to alarm bears here. Nevertheless, soon after the call heavy Wall street and commission house selling, chiefly July and August weakened the whole market. The decline which followed the turn to sell was accelerated by a sudden sharp break in the Liverpool market and by foreign selling orders. Rumor had it that South African peace prospects were not so favorable, while heavy port receipts, liberal estimates for to-morrow's receipts and reports of soaking rains where most needed in Texas, combined to undermine bull confidence. Not until May reached 8 86, July 8.88 and August 8.73 was there any sign of a change for the better. While dull during the early afternoon the market picked up in point of activity toward the close. With the increase in business

MATING TURKEYS.

Points to Consider In Selecting Your Breeders.

In mating turkeys I would prefer a yearling tom mated to pullets of good size or a good young tom with plenty of size mated to yearling hens. I do not like to mate turkeys of the same age and do not believe it advisable, no matter what their age, but young turkeys, if very vigorous, will do fairly well if mated together. If an old tom is mated to small hens, he should be reduced in flesh before the breeding season. We pick out the very best tom we can get, not always the largest, but the best in shape, color and vigor, and we are then sure to get plenty of size in the young stock. I like the tom best to have a well balanced body. He should not be all back behind the legs, which makes him tip too high in front. Neither do I want them so much in front that they tip forward. The tom should stand straight on his legs and high enough that his back is at an angle of 45 degrees. He should not be straight on the back, as we often find them, but it should gradually rise from the base of the neck to the center, then make a gradual rounding decline to the tail. This makes a beautiful shaped back. He should have large bone and straight toes. Young birds have legs approaching black, the darker the better. When they become yearlings, it turns pink, and the older the bird the lighter the color. The bronze color on the feathers should not be of the light copper color, but should be a very dark bronze throughout, with clear white edging, with as little admixture of brown or black as possible. The white and black barring on the wing of the tom should run across the feathers and the bars be of an equal width, perhaps the white a little wider than the black, but we should avoid the broad white barring, even though it is straight across. A tom such as I have described should be mated to pullets as nearly perfect in color and shape as can be procured. We would not want them to weigh more than twenty pounds for best results. The eggs will hatch stronger poults and more of them than will be the case if overgrown and fat birds are used as breeders.—S. B. Johnston in American Poultry Journal.

GEESE FOR PROFIT.

Of all the geese that the American standard of perfection speaks of only three breeds come up to the requirements of the farmer, who sees more than any one else to the actual market value of a bird. Toulouse, Embdens and Africans are breeds that will do their best to bring an extra penny. They have the weight when matured that makes them desirable, the hardiness that causes their eggs to hatch well and their young to live and the meat qualities that are in demand in the city markets.

To turn grass into hay is one way of making money, but to let geese turn grass into greenbacks is more profitable, because you have less competition when you sell and save all the weary hours in the hayfield on hot summer days. Geese if mated correctly will do the money making themselves, so to speak. The old goose is a good mother, and if you assist her in feeding the goslings for three weeks she is amply able to return in early fall a big flock of heavyweight youngsters. For best results people have advised to cross some of the above mentioned breeds, but this view I do not hold. A thoroughbred, be it horse, cow or goose, is always worth more than a crossbred animal. Often the chance slips by to sell geese for breeding purposes if you have crossbreeds in your fields.

Do not confine geese unless you wish to force fattening, and even in this case it should not be longer than two weeks. Geese must have liberty and a grass run to do their best. The Embdens are preferred by some on account of their white plumage, but as breeding geese should never be plucked this advantage is not as valuable as it at first may appear. Toulouse geese lay the most eggs, Africans are the hardiest, and Embdens have the best feathers. All are good, and none is the best.—Theodore F. Jager in American Agriculturist.

Best Sources of Animal Protein.

Fresh ground meat and bone is a very valuable constituent of the ration for egg production. In many localities, however, it is difficult to procure readily, and many who might get it do not have a bone cutter. On the other hand, beef scraps and meat meal can be bought at any time and, being dry, can be readily mixed in with other feed stuffs. The West Virginia experiment station has compared the value of the two for egg production, with results decidedly in favor of the greef bone.

During a period of four months, beginning Oct. 25, seventeen Plymouth Rock hens fed the fresh bone laid 650 eggs of an average weight of 11.75 pounds per 100, while a similar number fed meat meal in their ration laid 554 eggs, weighing 11.94 pounds per 100. The fowls fed fresh ground meat and bone also increased more in weight and were much healthier during the experiment, four of the others having died and being replaced by others. As this experiment was made with only one sample of meat meal the results cannot be considered conclusive.—American Agriculturist.

How to Lie When Sleeping.

The correct posture for sleep is to lie on the right side, with the limbs stretched out to their full length and the arms either straight down by the body or in any comfortable position, provided they are not raised above the head. The mouth should be closed, and all the muscles of the body should be relaxed. The lungs work with greater deliberation during the hours of sleep, and if the arms are raised above the head at this time and for any period the action of the heart drives the blood away from the arms and sends it to the head, frequently making one very restless when it does not prevent sleep entirely.

How to Make Vanilla Extract.

This can be made cheaply at home, and you can know you have all you pay for and no adulterations. Buy of your druggist one-quarter ounce of vanilla beans (be sure to get the genuine by buying the tonkas first), one-half ounce of tonka and one-half pint of alcohol. Mix with one-half pint of water and let stand for two weeks; then add one-quarter of a pint of alcohol and one-quarter of a pint of water. Let stand awhile longer and then strain and bottle. It is ready for use.

How to Devil Crackers.

Mix together three tablespoonfuls of grated cheese, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of dry mustard, one teaspoonful of anchovy paste, a dash of cayenne and a pinch of salt. Mix this smooth with two level tablespoonfuls of butter. Spread over the crackers and put in a hot oven until they begin to color.

CARE OF THE FEET.

How to Treat Tender Feet, Corns and Ingrowing Nails.

Tender feet are caused by wearing stockings too thin for the weight of the shoe, and of course an ill shaped boot or shoe or one not sufficiently porous to admit of the escape of perspiration will also cause tender feet, says the Philadelphia North American.

The best treatment for tender feet is soaking them nightly in bran and water or salt water. Let them remain in the footbath fully half an hour. Nothing so rests tired feet as the salt footbath.

Coldness of the feet indicates delicate health and impaired circulation. Cold feet are destroyers of complexions. It is said that rubbing the feet and ankles with the bare hands, pressing just as strongly as the feet can endure, for ten or fifteen minutes every night just before retiring will cure the most stubborn cases of cold feet.

Corns are horny indurations with a very sensitive nucleus or base and appear on the exposed portions of the joints of the toes. They are certainly caused by an undue and continuous pressure and will usually disappear with large, easy shoes; otherwise, though frequently taken out, they will reappear.

There are innumerable remedies for the removal of corns. The most common and popular contain extract of cannabis indica and salicylic acid or lactic or acetic acid. The usual mode of usage is to apply the remedy for four or five nights consecutively. On the fourth or fifth night, if the application has been successful, after a hot footbath the corns can be picked out with the fingers.

Nails that have a tendency to grow sidewise should be kept carefully pared. Where the nail grows into the flesh it may be cured by making a V shaped cut in the center, the broad part of the V at the top of the nail. For ingrowing nails Monin also advises bandaging the toe with compresses saturated with perchloarte of iron.

How to Make an Ottoman.

An ottoman, if space will allow, is a very useful thing to have in a bedroom and would look well at the foot of the bed. This is easy to make at a very small cost, as an ordinary wooden box can be made to do duty. Line inside, not forgetting the lid, with glazed lining, or anything you may have by you will do so long as it is clean and tidy. If the box you are using possesses hinges, so much the better, but if not you must get some, for it would be useless without except for a seat. The outside should be enameled—the box part, not the lid—and a flounce made long enough to reach the ground. The best way to fix this is to sew it on a tape, which in its turn is sewed to the lining of the box. The lid must next be measured and a cushion the exact size be made. The stuffing might be of excelsior, but it must be very full and be finished off with a frill about four inches wide to cover the joint. A piece of webbing or a strip of the material neatly doubled about eighteen inches long should be nailed to either side to prevent the lid falling back too far when opened.

How to Polish Windows.

The action of the sun, moisture and carbonic acid in the air on the soda or potash in the glass produces an opaqueness more or less pronounced. To remove this wet the glass with diluted hydrochloric acid, and after a few minutes go over the glass with powdered whiting. Pour the acid slowly into the cold water, using four ounces of the acid to twelve ounces of water (one pint and a half). Polish with chamois or soft paper. It must be remembered that this acid will attack metals and should not be allowed to touch them, nor should the bottle be left open an instant longer than necessary, as the fumes are very destructive.

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 15.

SITUATION IN BELGIUM.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

BRUSSELS, April 14.—The strike has begun fairly generally in the mining regions of the country, which are divided into four coal fields surrounding Mons, La Louviere, Charleroi and Liege. No serious incidents have yet been reported anywhere. Strong military precautions have been taken everywhere in Belgium. Fifteen thousand miners have stopped work at Charleroi. The glass workers have also struck.

A general srike has been declared in most of the large boot and shoe factories. Adequate measures have been taken to enable the soldiers to reinforce at a moment's notice at any point required.

There has been thus far to-day no question of proclaiming martial law. Such a step cannot be taken in Belgium without special legislative action. About 18,000 men are now out on a strike in the mountain districts; 35,000 troops are distributed in the agitated regions.

Brussels is perfectly quiet. There are no signs of the strike in the center of the town, but a number of strikes have occurred in the factories situated in the suburbs.

Bands of strikers at Charleroi, late in the day, paraded the streets and the surrounding country, closing the work shops and factories whose employes had not joined the strike. They succeeded in shutting up all the metal factories, most of the glass works and a number of other establishments. The same tactics were adopted at Jumet and Roux.

PEACE PROSPECTS.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, April 14.—Replying in the House of Commons to the Liberal leader, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, who asked whether any terms of peace had been suggested by the Boer leaders in South Africa, the government leader, A. J. Balfour, said that it was impossible at present to say more than that a message had been received Saturday from the Boer leaders, through Lord Kitchener, and that a reply had been sent to them. Another communication was expected.

It is announced that the communication of the Boer leaders to Lord Kitchener amounted to little more than a request for permission to use the cable in consulting Mr. Kruger and the Boer delegates in Europe regarding a basis for a peace settlement

There is a distinctly hopeful feeling in official quarters.

An Important Conference.

"An important conference on L. & N. was held at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. late this afternoon, lasting until 7 o'clock," the Tribune will say to-morrow. "At that conference, it is learned on high authority, the control of the Louisville and Nashville was offered by Jno. W. Gates and his associates to J. P. Morgan & Company, presumably for transfer to the Southern Railway Company. Whether or not the negotiations were completed and the offer was accepted could not be definitely learned."

NEW YORK DEMOCRATIC CLUB.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The members of the Democratic Club to-night commemorated the birthday of Thomas Jefferson with a reception at the club house. It was looked upon among the Democrats of the city and State as a harmony meeting.

David B. Hill, who had not visited the club for a number of years, was the chief orator of the evening and in his speech he called upon Democrats to unite in harmony. Perry Belmont, whose differences with Mr. Bryan and Mr. Croker have kept him away from the club for three years, was also there.

Lewis Nixon, the new leader of Tammany Hall, introduced Mr. Hill, whose speech was interrupted by frequent bursts of applause. At its conclusion Congressman James M. Griggs of Georgia, chairman of the Congressional Committee, spoke, advocating unity and predicting success for the party if internal differences were forgotten.

TARBORO DUELLISTS DIED.

Sequel to the Shooting Saturday Afternoon—Other News.

[Special Star Telegram.]

TARBORO, N. C., April 14.—The two white men, Roberson and Barrows, who became involved in a duel as the consequence of an attempted elopement, an account of which appeared in the STAR yesterday, both died at the hospital Saturday night. One John Wade, who with a pistol attempted to interfere with bringing one of the wounded men to town. was given a preliminary hearing this morning on two charges, of assault and of carrying concealed weapons. On the first charge judgment was suspended on the payment of costs, and on the other defendant was held for court in default of bail.

R. G. Hart's handsome residence at Heartease, with all its contents save a portion of the furniture, was destroyed by fire this morning. The loss is $3,000; insurance, $1,500.

Rev. Charles H. Eaton, died of angina pectoris at Tryon, N. C., yesterday. The body on its arrival in New York will be placed in the memorial chapel of the Church of the Divine Paternity, of which Dr. Eaton was the pastor.

THE CHINESE BILL IN THE SENATE.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Interest in the Cuban Reciprocity Debate Seems to Be Waning—Republican Opponents of Bill Determined to Prolong the Struggle.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The Chinese Exclusion bill occupied the attention of the Senate throughout the day. Senators Foraker and McLaurin of South Carolina making extended speeches in opposition. Senator Foraker contended that the pending measure was violative of our treaty with China and was calculated to prevent our commercial expansion in the far East. While strongly supporting the policy of the government to exclude Chinese laborers, the Ohio Senator maintained that this could be best accomplished by an extension of the present law. Senator McLaurin also favored an extension of the present law.

Senator Teller briefly responded to Senator Foraker, urging that the right to abrogate treaties was fully recognized.

During the day Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, gave notice of an amendment to the bill, striking out the much discussed clause prohibiting the employment of Chinese sailors on American ships.

"Is it fair to the people of the South," asked Senator McLaurin, "just as they are beginning to prosper in manufacturing and commercial enterprises, after long years of trouble and privation, to tear down and crush their new enterprises, on the assumption that such a ruinous policy is necessary in order to keep out the Chinese, when in point of fact it is not at all necessary and the Chinese are being kept out by the existing law? That is the plain business proposition at the basis of the whole question."

Senator McLaurin said the effect of a shut down in the China trade and the consequent collapse of Southern cotton manufacturing would be most severe on the South. It will glut the home market and close the mills. The mill owners and the operatives would suffer. In South Carolina some 60,000 operatives would be injured, while the same result would occur in North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and all the States where cotton goods are manufactured.

House of Representatives.

Interest in the Cuban reciprocity debate in the House seems to be waning, judged by the attendance on the floor to-day, but the earnestness of the speeches on both sides of the question increase rather than diminish in intensity. That the Republican opponents of the bill are determined to prolong the struggle as much as possible was made manifest to-day by their refusal to allow speeches to be printed in the Record. The speakers to-day were Messrs. McCall of Massachusetts and Brantley of Georgia for the measure and Messrs. Robertson of Louisiana and Stevens of Minnesota against it. Mr. Robinson of Indiana opposed Cuban annexation, on the ground that it would threaten the welfare of the American wage-earner.

The conference report on the passage of the Appropriation bill was adopted early in the day, after some criticism of the pneumatic tube provision.

Mr. Robertson of Louisiana contended that the United states would reap practically nothing from a reciprocity arrangement with Cuba. The Cubans, he argued, to-day bought from the United States all they would under reciprocity. Our meats, flour, etc., go there now and would go there whether reciprocity were inaugurated or not.

Mr. Robertson argued that the American consumer would secure no reduction upon his sugar as a result of the proposed legislation. The Sugar Trust, he declared, would be the chief beneficiary. So far as Louisiana was concerned, he declared that her sugar interests asked nothing to which they were not entitled under the tenets of every party.

Mr. Brantley, Georgia, spoke briefly in support of the bill. He was in favor of even freer trade relations than would be accorded by the bill, but if he could not secure all he desired in the way of a reduction of duties, he said, he would vote for what he could get. Mr. Brantley announced that he would vote to abolish the differential on refined sugar. In conclusion, he declared that every reduction of duties in the direction of tariff reform must redound to the interest of the Democratic party.

A WHITE MAN MURDERED.

Set Upon and Killed by Three Negroes. Murderers Arrested and Lodged in Jail at Windsor, N. C.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NORFOLK, Va., April 14.—At Kelford, N. C., Sunday, the spectacle of Sunday court was witnessed. John Stepenson, all colored, were charged with murdering Thomas Belfield, Junius Bishop and John Stephenson, white. There was every indication of a lynching and the State officers thought best to hurry the hearing. The trouble began in a store in which the victim was a clerk. Later, Stephenson had occasion to leave the store, when he was set upon by the three negroes and shot several times in the back. Milton Belfield was captured after having been shot by the police at Weldon, N. C. Sunday. Dr. Charles Cope and another magistrate tried the prisoners. It took almost the entire afternoon to hear the evidence, which was very damaging and when the hearing was concluded the three men were held for court and carried to the county jail at Windsor.

VIOLENT STORM IN BERLIN.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

BERLIN, April 14.—A violent thunder storm, accompanied by torrential rain, broke over Berlin and its vicinity early to-day, causing great damage. Many buildings were struck by lightning. The fire brigade was summoned to upwards of three hundred places to extinguish fires and cope with floods.

The streets were so flooded that the street cars in several districts were stopped. The roads were almost impassable for pedestrians and consequently the schools were closed.

FUNERAL AT COLUMBIA OF GEN. WADE HAMPTON.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 13.—Persons who attended the obsequies of John C. Calhoun, for which preparations were made by the State for a week, declare the demonstration this afternoon, when the body of General Wade Hampton was buried in the family lot in Trinity church yard was greater. An effort was made by the family to have a quiet funeral. The outpouring of people was spontaneous. Every road leading here was forced to run special trains. Veterans, Sons and Daughters, military and municipal officers came from every county in the State. There were representative people; the most honored men and women in South Carolina were here. During the short time to-day the public was permitted to the Hampton home, several thousand people, including a great many negroes, passed by the coffin. The procession included all the organizations, about 800 militia, and delegations from schools and colleges. All marched in double rank and close order and the line was a mile and a half long. All were on foot except General Hampton's family.

Each of the 100 Daughters of the Confederacy carried a floral offering. Besides, there were wagon loads of magnificent flowers, several handsome designs coming from other States. The procession moved to the church, a little over half a mile distant, between rows of people. Some of the houses on the way had Confederate flags draped in mourning.

Seats in the church could be provided for but 1,200 people, while perhaps 20,000 were without. General Hampton's family servants were provided for within. Bishop Ellison Capers, assisted by four pastors, conducted the services. In the open air the choir sang during the burial services. Only old men in grey used the shovels in filling the grave.

YARN MILLS IN THE SOUTH.

Combination to Be Formed in Charlotte April 23d--Capitalized at $60,000,000. Spinners Favor the Deal.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ATLANTA, GA. April 13.—The Constitution to-morrow will say: "Plans are on foot for the formation of a gigantic trust of all the cotton yarn mills of the Southern States. Investigation has been made by a committee of five, named at a recent meeting of the Southern Yarn Spinners, who will report favorably to the formation of the trust meeting to be held in Charlotte, on April 23rd. This report will favor the acceptance of a proposal made by F. L. Underwood, of 31 Nassau street, New York, who agrees to issue a total of $60,000,000 capital under the laws of New Jersey.

"Mr. Underwood's proposal was submitted to the Southern Yarn Spinners at a meeting held at Charlotte, N. C., on April 8th last. It was agreed by Mr. Underwood to pay to all of the yarn mill owners for the property a price to be agreed upon by a committee to be selected by the mill owners with his approval, but it is stipulated in his letter that such price shall not be in excess of 220 per cent. of the fair cash cost of replacing the property; payment to be made in one-half preferred and one-half common stock. Payment will be made in cash for all stocks of cotton, cotton in process of manufacture and goods on hand.

"The committee appointed for the consideration of Mr. Underwood's proposal has announced that it is prepared to recommend the proposal for serious consideration."

PASSING OF MILES.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The issues are fairly joined between Lieutenant General Miles and the Secretary of War The troubles which began long ago under the Cleveland administration have finally reached so critical a stage that the compulsory retirement of General Miles at an early date is an open secret and is not denied at the White House.

One of the most brutal murders committed in the Indian Territory took place a few miles east of Stillwell last Thursday. A white man named Durley killed his 10-year old daughter, fatally wounded two other children and severely injured his wife. Durley has been brought to Sallisaw to prevent his being lynched.

Nature's Compensations.

Nature is full of compensations, evils balanced with good, favorable and with unfavorable conditions. When market poultry is bringing good prices, it costs more to produce them. When eggs are high, it is expensive to produce them. This latter condition prevails now. We know people who are feeding and caring for forty hens for an output of three or four eggs per day. We can't as individuals regulate these things to suit ourselves, otherwise eggs would be much dearer in May than November if we had eggs to sell, and vice versa if we wanted to buy.

BRUTAL MURDERS IN AN IOWA TOWN

BODIES FOUND BY ROADSIDE.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

DES MOINES, IA., April 14.—While returning from Highland Park Methodist church on the north outskirts of the city last evening, Mary Peterson, fifteen years of age, and Thomas, aged eleven, children of Peter J. Peterson, a well to do dairyman, were murdered by some unknown person believed to be a negro. The boy when found at midnight was alive, but died within fifteen minutes without being able to give a description of his assailant. When assaulted, the children were returning from church, where they had been attending the evening service. The bodies were discovered on the roadside by a farmer who heard the moans of the lad. Their heads had been crushed in, presumably with a brick.

The police so far are without a clew. The body of the girl was found in a ditch two feet deep. She had been ravished. Her clothing was badly torn. At the base of the head she had been struck with some hard instrument which fractured the skull. Not a bric or any possible weapon can be found within the region where the murders occurred The boy was found in the ditch on the opposite side of the road. Full half a dozen indentations were made in the skull and his face also showed evidence of being pounded. There are still three girls and two boys in the Peterson family. Two of the girls declare that a week ago they were chased at the same spot by a man on their return during the evening from Highland Park. They are unable to give a description of the man.

Not far from the scene of the murder are the Marquisville coal mines, in which some 300 colored coal miners are employed. It is the impression of the police that the murderer is a resident of Marquisville. The tracks of two men have been found leading from the scene and were followed by the police, but they soon led into a path where all trace was lost.

James Hutchins, a negro 27 years of age, was arrested this afternoon on suspicion. He had on the back of his coat the imprint of a bloody hand. He gave a rambling account of where he had been during the night.

A crowd of several thousand people gathered in front of the city shortly after the arrest of Hutchins but no effort was made to take him from the officers. Excitement is running high in the city and talk of lynching is common.

News of severe fighting in the Transvaal at the end of last week has been sent to London by Lord Kitchener, who reports that about two hundred Boers were killed, wounded or captured. There were about a hundred British casualties.
